A FEW WORDS OF COMFORT FROM YOUR MUNICIPAL ADMINISTRATION AND YOUR FIRE DEPARTMENT

It's often difficult to find the right words to comfort someone who has experienced this type of situation. Know that you're not alone. There are a number of organizations and services to guide you through this difficult time and help you get your life back to normal as quickly as possible.

The Service de sécurité incendie de l'agglomération de Longueuil (SSIAL) has prepared this guide on what to do after a fire.

OWNERS

DAY 0

WHAT TO DO IMMEDIATELY AFTER A FIRE

- ☐ Secure your belongings after a representative of the SSIAL (Service de sécurité incendie de l'agglomération de Longueuil) has given you permission to do so.
- ☐ Find a place to stay. If you have nowhere to go, let your SSIAL representative know. The Red Cross can provide you with temporary shelter, toiletries, and other basic necessities for up to 72 hours.
- ☐ Contact your family and friends.
- ☐ Leave your contact information with a SSIAL member and your Red Cross representative.
- ☐ If you have tenants, make sure you have their contact information so you can inform them when it's safe to return home

IMPORTANT ITEMS TO TAKE WITH YOU IF YOU HAVE TO EVACUATE OR BEFORE YOU ARE REHOUSED

- ☐ Identification
- ☐ Credit cards
- ☐ Medications
- ☐ Prescription glasses
- ☐ Dentures and hearing aids
- ☐ Insurance documents

WARNING!

Representatives of companies offering after-disaster cleaning, renovation, and board-up services may try to contact you. Don't sign anything before you have consulted your insurance agent or disaster recovery expert. It is generally best to take a few hours to rest and give yourself time to think before making any decisions.

As soon as fire department staff have left the premises, you become responsible for your residence. You will need to ensure that it is safe and secured. If your home is uninhabitable following the fire, store any undamaged belongings with friends, neighbours, family members, or a professional storage company. Make sure to turn off the water supply to the building and notify your municipal public works department.

IF YOU HAVE INSURANCE

CLAIMS ADJUSTERS AND INSURANCE COMPANIES

The claims adjuster is a damage insurance professional who investigates your claim, estimates the damage, and negotiates your settlement. There are three types of claims adjusters:

- Staff adjusters, who are employed directly by the insurance company;
- Independent adjusters, who are contracted by the insurance company on a case-by-case basis;
- Public adjusters, who work on behalf of the victim or claimant.

Your insurer will generally take care of hiring the claims adjuster.

- ☐ Contact your insurer to arrange a meeting with a claims adjuster.
- ☐ Write down the contact information of the claims adjuster your insurer has assigned to you (you can record the information on page 31).

Contact your insurance company as soon as possible. They will send someone to your location to assess the damage, start the claims process, and provide the support you need. Most insurance companies have an emergency telephone number that you can call 24/7.

Many insurance contracts cover living expenses and may even provide you with a cash advance. Find out if this applies to you!

DAY 1

WHAT TO DO IN THE 24 HOURS FOLLOWING A FIRE

- ☐ Inform your employer of the situation.
- ☐ Notify your child's school.
- ☐ Notify your financial institution.
- ☐ Notify public utility companies, such as Bell, Vidéotron, Hydro-Québec, and Énergir (see page 30).
- ☐ Ask Canada Post to hold your mail (see page 17).
- ☐ Notify government services (see page 25).
- ☐ Notify your municipal taxation office (see pages 26 to 29).
- ☐ Make sure your building has been secured (see page 10).
- ☐ Make sure that you have completed all the necessary steps outlined in the Remise de propriété form (see page 11).
- ☐ If needed, obtain a copy of the incident report or fire report summary (see page 22).

DAY 2

WHAT TO DO IN THE DAYS FOLLOWING A FIRE

- ☐ Make a list of items and documents that were damaged or destroyed.
- ☐ Contact your local support organizations (see page 25).
- ☐ If possible, restore utility services and repair or replace systems and devices (see page 10).
- ☐ Contact contractors through your insurance company:
 - electrician;
 - plumber;
 - cleaning companies;
 - etc.
- ☐ Keep receipts for any expenses in a safe place.
- ☐ Cancel or reschedule your appointments.

You will have a lot of things to take care of in the days following the fire.

It's best to provide an address and telephone number where you can be reached, for example, at the home of a friend, neighbour, or family member, or wherever you may be staying.

Give this information to your insurance agent, claims adjuster, SSIAL representative, and any other important contacts.

Go to your Local Employment Centre (CLE) or Services Québec office (see page 30), as you may be entitled to special benefits from the Ministère de l'Emploi et de la Solidarité sociale for expenses incurred following a fire.

HOW TO SECURE YOUR BUILDING FOLLOWING A FIRE

When the SSIAL arrives on the scene of a fire, they immediately disconnect or shut off certain utilities. If your home was not completely lost in the fire, we recommend you take the following measures:

☐ ELECTRICITY

Have a master electrician inspect and restore your electrical systems.

☐ NATURAL GAS

Contact Énergir to have your natural gas service restored.

☐ PROPANE

Contact your propane supplier to reconnect your propane service.

☐ HEATING

Have a qualified technician inspect your heating system before turning it back on.

☐ SOLID-FUEL HEATING

Have a professional check your solid-fuel heating system before you start using it again.

☐ FIRE ALARM SYSTEM

Have a qualified technician check your fire alarm system and take safety measures to protect your building's occupants (request security patrols, for example).

☐ SMOKE DETECTORS

Replace smoke detectors to improve the safety of your building's occupants.

☐ CARBON MONOXIDE (CO) DETECTORS

Replace CO detectors to improve the safety of your building's occupants.

☐ WATER

Contact your municipal public works department to have your water turned back on if the main shut-off valve at street level was turned off.

☐ AUTOMATIC SPRINKLER SYSTEM

Have a qualified technician inspect and reconnect your sprinkler system. Monitor your building closely in the meantime.

☐ PORTABLE FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

Have a qualified technician inspect your fire extinguishers. If they are still in good condition, they may be refilled and used again.

REMISE DE PROPRIÉTÉ FORM

The presence of a qualified technician may be necessary to reconnect certain equipment or services. After the fire, the SSIAL will give you a Remise de propriété form. This means you are once again solely responsible for your property and that it's up to you to make sure it's safe and secure. If your home is no longer livable, remove any undamaged belongings and store them in a secure location. You must send the form to your insurance company.

DAY 1

WHAT TO DO IN THE 24 HOURS FOLLOWING A FIRE

- ☐ Inform your employer of the situation.
- ☐ Notify your child's school.
- ☐ Notify your financial institution.
- ☐ Notify public utility companies, such as Bell, Vidéotron, Hydro-Québec, and Énergir (see page 30).
- ☐ Ask Canada Post to hold your mail (see page 17).
- ☐ Notify government services (see page 25).
- ☐ If needed, obtain a copy of the incident report or fire report summary (see page 22).

DAY 2

WHAT TO DO IN THE DAYS FOLLOWING A FIRE

- ☐ Make a list of items and documents that were damaged or destroyed.
- ☐ If possible, restore utility services and repair systems and devices (see page 10).
- ☐ Contact contractors through your insurance company:
 - electrician;
 - plumber;
 - cleaning companies;
 - etc.
- ☐ Keep receipts for any expenses in a safe place.
- ☐ Cancel or reschedule your appointments.

You will have a lot of things to take care of in the days following the fire.

It's best to provide an address and telephone number where you can be reached, for example, at the home of a friend, neighbour, or family member, or wherever you may be staying.

Give this information to your insurance agent, claims adjuster, SSIAL representative, and any other important contacts.

Go to your Local Employment Centre (CLE) or Services Québec office (see page 30), as you may be entitled to special benefits from the Ministère de l'Emploi et de la Solidarité sociale for expenses incurred following a fire.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION AND ADVICE

1. IDENTIFICATION DOCUMENTS

Replace damaged or destroyed identification documents. You will find a list of agencies to call on page 25.

2. MAIL

Your letter carrier will hold your mail for 24 hours following a fire. Nevertheless, it is your responsibility to notify Canada Post of the incident. Contact your local post office and have them hold your mail for a fixed period. There is a fee for this service; keep your receipts for insurance purposes.

3. MEDICATIONS

Most pharmacies can renew your prescriptions for essential medications following a fire.

4. FOOD, CLOTHING, SHELTER AND FURNITURE

There are various support organizations that can provide you with food, clothing, and temporary shelter (see page 25). Naturally, you may prefer to stay with friends or family.

Keep in mind that any food that was in your home during the fire is no longer edible. Depending on your contract, your insurance company may cover the cost to replace it.

5. PERSONAL POSSESSIONS

Make a list of all lost possessions. Try to be as thorough as possible. Include details of each item such as the brand, model, colour, serial number, purchase date, and how much it cost.

To speed up your claim, make the list as soon as possible. Any receipts for these items that you have kept or were able to retrieve will be very helpful.

6. RECEIPTS

There are many unexpected expenses after a fire. Keep all of your receipts (gas, food, clothing, hotel). Depending on your contract, your insurance company may reimburse these costs.

7. RENOVATIONS

Your insurance agent and claims adjuster will help you prepare better for renovations. You will need a permit before any work can begin. Permit applications can be submitted to your municipality's urban planning department. In some cases, your contractor can apply for the permit.

8. INCOME SECURITY RECIPIENTS

Contact your Local Employment Centre (CLE) as soon as possible to inform them of your needs (see page 30). The CLE already has your file, and you are legally entitled to certain benefits.

9. YOUR SOCIAL SUPPORT NETWORK

Contact the people in your social support network (friends, family, employer, or co-workers) and let them know what has happened. They can help you get your life back to normal.

10. DEALING WITH THE LOSS OF A LOVED ONE

If you and your family need help in dealing with the loss of a loved one, reach out to a specialized support organization. Your CLSC's Division urgence social (social emergency division) will provide frontline support to you and your loved ones, and will refer you to organizations if you need follow-up care in the longer term (see pages 26 to 29).

COMMON REACTIONS AFTER A FIRE¹

Traumatic events such as a fire will trigger all sorts of reactions in people. This is perfectly normal.

YOUR REACTIONS MAY VARY DEPENDING ON:

- the extent of the damage;
- the seriousness of the threat, and the number of fatalities;
- the need to evacuate or be rehoused;
- the degree of media coverage;
- the cause of the fire and your potential liability;
- the resilience of each person affected;
- your resulting financial situation.

TYPICAL REACTIONS OF EACH AGE GROUP FOLLOWING A FIRE²

- Younger children may experience anxiety or fear.
- Teens will either want to be treated as adults or may revert to more childlike behaviour. They need to understand what has happened and why.
- Adults might feel torn between their responsibilities and their own needs.
- Seniors may be able to determine their own needs and what services they require.

These feelings and reactions are all normal and will subside, given time. If they are still as intense after two weeks, contact your local CLSC for help (see pages 26 to 29).

THE FOUR MAIN TYPES OF REACTIONS

Physical reactions

- | | |
|---------------------------|-------------------|
| • Headaches | • Nausea |
| • Blackouts | • Intense fatigue |
| • Respiratory problems | • Dizziness |
| • Hot flashes | • Sweating |
| • Cardiovascular problems | • Trembling |

² Maltais, D. & Rheault, M.-A. Intervention sociale en cas de catastrophe (Québec: Presses de l'Université du Québec, 2005).

Emotional reactions

- Shock, stupor, sluggishness
- Feelings of weakness, helplessness, and vulnerability
- Severe emotional distress
- Stress
- Anger
- Grief, hopelessness
- The feeling that the event will happen again
- Émotivité
- Irritability
- Guilt and shame

Cognitive reactions

- Anxiety, fear
- Difficulties concentrating
- Flashbacks
- Irritability
- Confusion

Behavioural reactions

- Withdrawal
- Acts of heroism
- Freezing up
- Restlessness
- Fierce protectiveness of loved ones

How your child may react

- Nightmares and difficulty sleeping
- Age regression: bed-wetting, thumb-sucking, etc.

Helping children cope

- Encourage children to express their feelings about the experience through talking, playing, and drawing.
 - Tell them the truth about what happened. Answer their questions as they come up. Let them go back to playing. They'll be back if they have other questions.
 - Give them a sense of security: Reassure them, let them know you love them and that their emotional or psychological reactions are normal responses to an abnormal and traumatic event.
 - Talk to your children about fire safety to give them a sense of control over their situation.
 - Notify their school or daycare centre that there's been a fire. These environments can provide important support to your child.

GENERAL INFORMATION

BE PREPARED FOR EMERGENCIES

GUIDELINES

- ☐ Make a list of your belongings and take pictures. If possible, include receipts. Leave copies of important documents with family or friends or keep them in a safety deposit box.
- ☐ Make photocopies of your ID and credit cards and give them to family or friends for safekeeping.
- ☐ Keep a list of your medications in your wallet and give a copy to family or friends.
- ☐ Prepare an emergency kit to take with you in case of evacuation.
- ☐ Keep a list of important telephone numbers in your wallet.

OBTAINING A COPY OF THE INCIDENT REPORT

Requests may be directed to the Demande d'accès à l'information office at Ville de Longueuil:

- by telephone: 450 463-7015
- by fax: 450 463-7410
- by email: accesinformation@longueuil.quebec

There is a fee for this service.

OBTAINING A COPY OF THE FIRE REPORT SUMMARY

Beneficiaries of the income security program or the Office municipal de l'habitation (OMHM) must call the Bureau des opérations du SSIAL at 450 463-7100, ext. 5602. The SSIAL will submit a copy of the fire report summary directly to the relevant organization. There is no need to visit in person.

Anyone else wishing to obtain a printed copy should go to 1700 boulevard Curé-Poirier Est, Longueuil. Bring photo ID and proof of home address.

This service is free.

RETURNING HOME

Here are few steps to follow once you are back home:

SMOKE DETECTORS

Smoke detectors are the least expensive fire detection device and the easiest to install and maintain. This essential tool saves lives. When a fire starts, the smoke triggers the alarm, alerting the occupants of the home. Not having working smoke detectors in a home can often be fatal in the event of a fire.

CARBON MONOXIDE DETECTORS*

Carbon monoxide (CO) is a toxic gas responsible for several cases of poisoning each year. Carbon monoxide poisoning can cause irreversible damage and even death. All appliances and vehicles that burn fuel, such as gasoline, diesel, wood, and propane, can produce carbon monoxide.

Unlike other gases, carbon monoxide is odourless and invisible. It does not cause irritation to the eyes or the airways. A carbon monoxide detector can alert you to the presence of the gas. Install detectors near bedrooms so you can be sure to hear the alarm if you are sleeping.

Don't be the next victim! Install working smoke detectors and CO detectors in your home. Remember to change the batteries twice a year, each time the clocks change.

EMERGENCY EVACUATION PLAN

Identify two emergency exits and a safe place to meet once outside. Make an emergency evacuation plan and practise it twice a year. Having a plan will help you get out safely if there's a fire in your home. Having an outdoor meeting point is a way to make sure that all occupants have evacuated safely.

Call 450 463-7028 for more information on fire prevention or go to longueuil.quebec/incendie.

In case of emergency, call 911.
